CELL PHONES: I do not allow students to have cell phones out, on their music stand or chair. I ask them to put them in their bag. If we are working on something, I will often let them listen to music, but will revoke that if I see them abusing it (say, taking a photo, texting, etc.)

FOOD & DRINK: ESDH - I am fine if they eat while they are working on a non-playing assignment. If you are rehearsing with them - no food.
GBJH - Water/drinks only during class.

PASSING IN WORK Students may pass in things to you, please leave them in this folder. Please, ask them to leave money in the office.

ROOM AT THE END OF THE DAY: BOTH SCHOOLS - Please, make sure that the music stands are on the carts and chairs are in stacks.

HALL PASS AT GBJH: Students need to take a hall pass when they need to go to the washroom. This is on the white shelf next to the door. Only one at a time.

WASHROOM AT ESDH: I allow washroom breaks - they are directly across the hall. One student out at a time.

GEAR/INSTRUMENTS: No students are allowed to touch, play, move the gear without permission. If you are not playing in class, then there should be no interaction with instruments.

LOCKING THE DOOR: Please, ensure that all doors are shut and locked when you are not in the room.

If a student forgets their instrument...

- There are "Rehearsal Detective" sheets for them to fill out while we are playing. These are on the side white board (at ESDH) and on the clipboards (at the table) at GBJH.
- When they are done - at ESDH they will hand them in to you. At GBJH, there is an orange folder attached to my file cabinet that they can put them in.
- They are meant to write for the entire class. They should not finish in the first few minutes (or they have not done them correctly)
- If, for any reason, they do finish early - there are theory booklets they can work on.

If a student forgets their music...

- I usually write what we are doing on the board.
- I just asked them to look at what sheets they will need and to find them in the hanging folders (ESDH) or the black binders (GBJH).
- It's possible there aren't copies, in which case I will ask them to share.
- At GBJH, they may need help finding the booklets. Those are in the blue bin marked, "BOOKLETS"
